“When God calls a man, He does not repent of it. God does not, as many friends do, love one day, and hate another; or as princes, who make their subject favorites, and afterwards throw them into prison. This is the blessedness of a saint; his condition admits of no alteration. God’s call is founded on His decree, and His decree is immutable. Acts of grace cannot be reversed. God blots out his people’s sins, but not their names.”

Make plans now to join us at 6pm, Saturday, September 9 for a special evening as we celebrate “An Evening With John Newton & William Cowper.” During the service we will discover how a former slave trader and an English poet came to know Christ and eventually become good friends & writers of some of our greatest hymns, such as Amazing Grace & There Is A Fountain.

“You and I cannot be useful if we want to be sweet as honey in the mouths of men. God will never bless us if we wish to please men, that they may think well of us. Are you willing to tell them what will break your own heart in the telling and break theirs in the hearing? If not, you are not fit to serve the Lord. You must be willing to go and speak for God, though you will be rejected.”
