Any man that believes and acts on the belief that the grace of God encourages him to sin is only proving that he knows nothing about true saving grace! Donald Grey Barnhouse put it bluntly, "Holiness starts where justification finishes, and if holiness does not start, we have the right to be suspect that justification never started either."

Martyn Lloyd-Jones

Come Thou Almighty King

In his first letter to Timothy, the apostle Paul warns him that the Christian life is a constant war against evil. He commands Timothy to "Fight the good fight of the faith" (1 Timothy 6:12, ESV). A few verses later, Paul describes the one for whose sake we fight: "he who is the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, who alone has immortality, who dwells in unapproachable light, whom no one has ever seen or can see. To him be honor and eternal dominion. Amen" (1 Timothy 6:15-16, ESV). In this hymn, we praise God as our King and Ruler, addressing each Person of the Trinity in turn, and end with a request that

"His Sovereign majesty
May we in glory see."

The author of the hymn lyrics is unknown but dates from before 1757, when it was published in a leaflet and bound into the 1757 edition of George Whitefield's Collection of Hymns for Social Worship.
