Hymn of Reflection My Savior's Love

---

But the pith of the text comes here, that "Christ died for the ungodly"; not for the righteous, not for the reverent and devout, but for the ungodly. Look at the original word, and you will find that it has the meaning of "impious, irreligious, and wicked." I do not know a word that could more fitly describe the most irreligious of mankind than the original word in this place, and I believe it is used on purpose by the Spirit of God to convey to us the truth, which we are always slow to receive, that Christ did not die because men were good, or would be good, but died for them as ungodly-or, in other words, "he came to seek and to save that which was lost."

Charles H. Spurgeon, 1874

Ancient Hymns

As you know, at Crosspoint we believe in the importance of singing theologically rich hymns, including ancient hymns. Matt Boswell says, "Singing the historic hymns of our faith reminds our congregations that we are not the first generation who have wrestled and prayed, asked and believed. We are not the first to write hymns of praise to God. We walk gladly in the footsteps of our fathers who have written praises to Christ that have stood the test of time. Hymns are portable sermons that articulate, exegete and pronounce biblical truths. They shape the way we view God, man and Christ, and how we are to live in light of the gospel. The truths they communicate preach to us throughout the week following the style of Deuteronomy 6—at home and away, when lying down and waking."

The ancient hymns included in our morning worship service include:

O God, Our Help in Ages Past - Isaac Watts (1719)

O For A Thousand Tongues to Sing - Charles Wesley (1739)

And Can It Be - Charles Wesley (1738)

My Savior's Love - Charles Gabriel (1905)
